CODE CHANGES	INTERFACE CHANGES	Describe the functionality added or Changed
There are many changes since our product isn't interconnected with the data base unlike today our product can be automatically add when we try to type down on the data base	The interface haven't change that much it is still the same	The product card and the product modal isn't called many times since the database or php code is syncing now

The items that is in the database are directly displayed on the web:

The screenshot shows the phpMyAdmin web interface in a browser. The address bar indicates the URL: localhost/phpmyadmin/index.php?route=/sql&pos=0&db=dazzleoasis&table=items. The interface includes a sidebar with a database tree on the left and a main content area on the right. The main content area displays a table of items from the 'dazzleoasis' database. The table has columns for item_id, name, description, price, quantity, category, image_path, created_at, and updated_at. There are 9 items listed. Each row has action links for Edit, Copy, and Delete. At the bottom of the table, there are options to check all, edit, copy, delete, and export the selected rows. The interface also includes a search bar and a console at the bottom.
